Inside The Avery's New Luxury Model Homes

May 29, 2019 | by Katie Sweeney

With one of San Francisco's most expensive penthouses and its location in an entirely new neighborhood called East Cut, The Avery is shaping up to be a highly anticipated new building. Adding fuel to the fire? Related California, its parent company, has recently released six model units including three residences that are for sale and three apartments that are for rent designed by Clodagh and RH.

The condos are located higher up, in between the 33rd and 53rd floor. All three of the model homes are light filled with floor-to-ceiling glass windows that overlook the beautiful bay and city skyline. Clodagh Design put together a three-bedroom residence inspired by the region's connection to nature. It features Dornbracht fixtures, luxurious wall coverings, and interesting textures like wood and stone.

RH designed the two other model condos using pieces from the brands RH Interiors and RH Modern collections. The two-bedroom home incorporates the colors of the sea and sky, abstract art, and mixed metals. The one-bedroom home was created to be a tranquil retreat in the clouds. It has a calming white color palette, contemporary art, and statement furniture pieces.

The apartments are located in the rental floors of the building, two through 32. Related styled these three models (a studio, one-, and two-bedroom space) with white oak flooring, keyless entry, Nest thermostats, and Bosch appliances. All residents have access to the building's amenities which include an Equinox-curated fitness center, indoor lap pool, professional demonstration kitchen, formal dining room, media lounge, game room, business center, landscaped terrace, pet spa, and valet parking. The Avery is expected to be ready for move in on June 1, so interested buyers better get a move on it.
