

TRANSBAY BLOCK 8 MOVES FORWARD WITH KEY APPROVALS

Transbay Aerial View

Related California received key approvals to move ahead with Transbay Block 8, a 554-unit, mixed-income, mixed-use residential tower at the corner of Folsom and Fremont in San Francisco. The Commission on Community Investment and Infrastructure unanimously approved the development’s schematic design by world-renowned architecture firm OMA in collaboration with award-winning San Francisco design firm Fougerson Architecture. The Commission also approved the Disposition & Development Agreement, enabling Related California and nonprofit partner Tenderloin Neighborhood Development Corporation (TNDC) to proceed with purchasing the property and completing the design. Construction is anticipated to begin in 2016...
